

IA-77 GROWING UP UHV4 WITH ANDROMEDA TURRE

Keynote Presentation 2023

Jazz + DEI

A LEARNING EXPERIENCE

Growing Up Jazz teaches African American history through the lens of Jazz.

Jazz vocalist Andromeda Turre is a Cornell University certified diversity practitioner who learned Jazz history from such icons as Dizzy Gillespie, Max Roach and Wynton Marsalis. Host of her own Growing Up Jazz show on SiriusXM, Andromeda has also performed internationally with artists such as Ray Charles and Michael Bublé.

"Jazz is the oral history of the African experience
in America."

- ANDROMEDA TURRE

HISTORY WITH PERSONALITY

SOUND

Listening to music written by Africans since their arrival in America brings first hand accounts of their lives.

EXPERIENCE

Growing Up Jazz incorporates audio and video performances to create an engaging learning experience.

PERSPECTIVE

Witnessing a chronological history of the music enhances participants knowledge of US history by illuminating an often untold perspective.

CHARACTER

Where do we go from here? The Q&A conversation afterwards digs into practical applications of the keynotes teachings.
